Download EaseUS Data Recovery Wizard 14.8..2d 394, 397 (La.App. 1st Cir.1985). This appeal does not present an issue in which the estoppel issue was raised by either party in its written motion for rehearing. Additionally, the new issue was not briefed by this court. As we have no legal authority on which to base an estoppel issue, we do not address it. [2] We note that the policy clearly provides, under Section I, paragraph 4, that the insured: may not realize or divulge to [the insurer] any possible claim(s) against [his] employer or others. [He] should not, under any circumstances, sign any legal papers or documents without the knowledge of his [insurer]. [3] The policy requirement that the insured provide written notice of claim "[n]o later than 90 days after the occurrence" does not affect the waiver as to the employer. The contract is with [the insurer] which means that the policy is for the benefit of [the insurer]. Thus, the 90 day notice provision, though perhaps harsh in its effect, must be enforced. Olivas v. United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co., 395 So.2d 1284 (La.App. 1st Cir.1981), writ denied, 398 So.2d 684 (La.1981); Harper v. Clements, 424 So.2d 49 (La. App. 1st Cir.1982), writ denied, 429 So.2d 156 (La.1983); Fairley v. United States Fidelity & Guar. Co., 495 So.2d 362 (La.App. 3d Cir.1986). Additionally, "[w]hen an insurer has agreed to pay `... reasonable expenses incurred in the preparation and presentation of the claim against the insured,' the insured is not obligated to discharge an obligation to his employer which he has incurred merely in the pretense of establishing his right to compensation from the insurer." Harper, 424 So.2d at 51. In LaBorde v. United States Fidelity and Guaranty Co., 457 So.2d 14 (La.App. 1st Cir.1984), a vocational rehabilitation case, the insurer did not pay the employee's medical bills because 0cc13bf012
